

Life cost calculation

NEO Huddinge

Introduction

Did you know that one of the simplest ways to lower operating costs and strengthen your sustainability footprint is through lighting? Many companies overlook the hidden savings opportunities concealed in traditional lighting systems – something we at Aura Light are happy to help reveal.

In the attached energy savings report, we show how switching to our smart and energy-efficient LED solutions can create both immediate gains and long-term value. Using data from our review of your facilities together with your team, we highlight concrete measures and clear impacts – economic, environmental, and functional.

Our goal is to deliver a modern, comprehensive solution that makes a difference – for the user, the business, and the planet. The report has been designed to support your decision-making and inspire the next step toward a smarter lighting future. Don't hesitate to get in touch if you'd like to know more – we look forward to making the journey together!

Summary

Summary:

At Aura Light, we strive to offer more than just a lighting solution – we want to contribute to a smarter, more sustainable choice. Through our LCC analysis, we hope the results confirm that our solution meets both your functional needs and financial goals. With a focus on user-friendliness, reliability, and energy efficiency, we create a comprehensive solution that not only enhances the experience for those in the environment – but also minimizes the climate footprint over time.
